4. Reasons for the revision of projected full-year operating results

Kanamoto projects operating results for revenues, operating income and ordinary income for the current period to be substantially higher than its previous estimate because rental demand for construction equipment in conjunction with restoration and recovery work following the Great East Japan Earthquake is stronger than the Company's previous assumption.

The Company also plans to record an extraordinary profit for a gain on reversal of provision in conjunction with revision of Kanamoto's retirement benefits system about the net income. Both of these factors are reflected in the projected figures indicated above.

Kanamoto plans to release its Nine-month Consolidated Financial Report on September 2, and intends to announce its operating results for the Business Period ending October 31, 2011 on December 9.
